GET READY FOR MAUI!

Maui, the second largest Hawaiian island, is referred to as the Valley Isle because it consists of two mountain masses separated by a low narrow valley-like isthmus. The city lies in the flat corridor between Maui's two volcanoes, and this is where most of the island's population lives. Kahului is home to thousands of former sugarcane workers, and home to the last operational sugarcane factory in Hawaii. "Maui Tropical Plantation and Iao Valley" gives you a great overview of Maui's agricultural villages, orchards, sugar cane fields and flower gardens. Or take the "Best Of West Maui", and enjoy the plantation & the "Maui Ocean Center." Although the stretch along Maui's coastline is perfect for relaxing, the island has an underlying energy that inspires people to do things they might not do otherwise. Ascend to the summit of the "Haleakala Crater" or better yet, fly over the crater via the "Hana-Haleakala by Helicopter". If the pristine waters of Hawaii are in your plans, then head out on one of our many sail or snorkel excursions. "Molokini Crater Snorkel" is a favorite. Discover a whole new world in the traditional custom of a festive luau at our exclusive "Pacific Paradise Luau," a must do while in the islands of Hawaii. For more information on all of the Shore Excursions offered in Maui, see your Shore Excursion Team, in the Aloha Atrium, on Deck 5.
