GET READY FOR KONA

Kona - meaning "Leeward" in Hawaiian, stretches along the West Side Coast of the Big Island. Famous for its coffee, Kona also has great activities to enjoy, everything from historical landmarks, sport fishing, scuba diving, snorkeling, and much more.

Kona Coffee is grown in a narrow strip of land on the mountain slopes above the picturesque harbor town of Kailua, Kona. The first trees, a variety of Arabica that originated in Ethiopia, were planted nearly 175 years ago and thrived in the rich volcanic soil of the North and South Districts of Kona. Thus, Kona Coffee beans are now known worldwide for their superb quality and flavor. Learn how it's processed and sample the rich brews on the tour "Kona Coffee: Then & Now." Hawaii is also home to Parker Ranch, one of the largest ranches in the United States. The legacy of the ranch traces back to 1809 when John Parker, a sailor from Massachusetts, first landed on the islands. For a glimpse of the history of Parker Ranch take the "Kona & The Parker Ranch" tour. Visit the Visitors Center, Historical Homes where you will see displays, artifacts and memorabilia from more than 150 years, and 6 generations of ranch operations.

Kona is also the place of fun in the sun with many in water activities. To discover this underwater kingdom, check out "Captain Zodiac Raft & Snorkel" and "Kamanu Catamaran & Snorkel," both offer great snorkeling. If you don't want to get wet, see this underwater paradise on the "Glass Bottom Boat" or the "Atlantis Submarine." The array of marine life will amaze even the most experienced diver.
